GAME #15

Vs

19 AUGUST 2023 | vs KILLARNEY DISTRICT | FORFEIT

Since joining the team in 2013, there haven't been many games Brad Avery has missed. He even strung together over 100 consecutive games, worthy of an Iron Man award for such a stretch. On those rare times he has been injured, something miraculous happens that means he doesn't miss out, most notably a month long of washouts that allowed him to heal in time. There's been much speculation that he deals in some form of avian sorcery involving rain dancing and voodoo magic, this cannot be confirmed nor denied. So when the news came that he was declaring himself out for this weekend's encounter against Killarney, there was some shock. He wasn't injured and despite being Killarney's leading goal scorer against us this season, Boz hadn't told him he couldn't play. No, the reason was, he'd been booked in for a jet fighter flight in Camden this Saturday morning, a 50th birthday present from people who obviously didn't know him well enough to book it during football season. So Brad was going to miss a game ?? Well no, because on Thursday evening, the announcement came through the CCF app … Killarney had forfeited. Why? Maybe injuries, maybe they're resting for the semi finals, maybe without Brad they might not score a goal… or maybe Brad threatened to do a low fly by of the Bateau Bay area, scaring them all into the bunkers? We might never know but suspiciously, Brad doesn't miss a game yet again. So with that, the 45BC Tigers clock up 15 out of 15 wins, and accrued another four goals in their favour. Luca has claimed all four.

The Road to the Finals

The finals hopes of Mountains ended at Bloodtree with a 2-2 draw against Ourimbah, a reportedly fiery encounter that saw Ourimbah's goalie get red-carded and will miss the semi final if they qualify. They have a bye next weekend. Barnestoneworth could've knocked out Ourimbah with a victory over Avoca but went down 2-1. They get one final chance against Wyoming this weekend. Whilst, East Gosford cannot make the finals, they're ending the season in a flurry, winning the past four games. The victory over Gosford has pushed them beyond the wooden spoon. That battle is between Gosford and Terrigal next weekend.
