WEEK 14 (ROUND 12)

THE BATTLE OF BLOODTREE

Knee braces buckled, necks twisted, hamstrings tore and a cottes bottle saw its last day in the toughest game of our season thus far. Despite the odds in our favour at the end of the first half and a cracker of a shot by Darren to put us in front, we couldn't keep maintain the intensity needed to overcome a more determined opposition. The contentious penalty aside, the better team won on the day.

QUEST FOR THE MINOR PREMIERSHIP

Losing to the Mountains means the battle for the minor premiership is now in full swing. We lead by 1 point. Both Wyoming and Mountains have four games each left to play. Whilst Mountains have Top 4 contenders Woy Woy and East Gosford to come, it's hard to see them slipping up. To maintain the advantage, the onus is on us to return to the winning circle starting this weekend against East Gosord. The odds are against us with quite a hole missing in the middle of our usual line-up with Meady and Framay out of the mix and Mick, Kev, Dean and Jason battling injuries. Either we desperately pray for rain or it's time for the rest of us to step up and keep the wins going on our home soil!!

ROUND 12 RESULTS

Predictable wins to East Gosford and Southern Ettalong but Kariong defeating Terrigal was quite the surprise and puts them just 4pts from 4th place - upcoming games against Woy Woy and Ettalong though will surely test their mettle.
