GAME #5

Vs

Alan Davidson Oval, Wyoming

FINDING THE MARK

Having been short on subs the first few rounds, the door was still open for an additional signing. At first, the hopes were Paul Ashton would recover from his knee injury and take that 18th spot. Then, Elton Richardson - one of the players from the inaugural line-up in 2011 - had expressed interest only to secure a new job that demanded working Saturdays! Luca's hopes of signing Mark Bohringer were dashed with those dreaded three words, "maybe next year". Having secured marquee signings in previous years, Luca was starting to feel he'd failed. Then he caught the whiff of a rumour that Mark Fitzpatrick had seen an E-grade game and remarked "Geesh, I could do this". (Dramatic licensing in effect). Mark was well known throughout the club and there had been enquiries during previous years for his services with little success. Not this time! Luca booked him in for an Anzac Day meeting, printed out a contract - which I didn't even know we had - and nabbed his signature, in ink we believe, not blood. We are not certain if a bottle or three of wine were consumed prior to this. Regardless, welcome aboard Mark!!

SWEET SIXTEEN

Of course whenever you pick up a new recruit, suddenly everyone else is also available to play. As Saturday approached we were looking at having 17 on the roster. Only Snorky was out due to A-grade manager commitments and we assumed Bill would turn up despite not responding to the call-up, his phone possibly having dropped into a skip whilst scavenging for cans. The fear of having to have someone sit out was extinguished when Chris had to pull out on Friday evening. Despite Gregg being on call for work, he was able to turn up, motivated perhaps more by the fact that if he misses many more games, Meady will become the team's most capped player!! Today also marked first starts of the season for Flanno and Luca though at one point Luca was in doubt when he thought he was going to have a heart attack on the sidelines of the 16B's. Kids! Please don't kill our Luca !!

(^) ANDY's first attacking run is sky bound (v) MICK's tries to beat the keeper with a shot towards the inside post.

(^) MICK troubles the defence.

THIRD VS FOURTH

Perfect conditions, a late afternoon kick-off, a plethora of subs, Wyoming were ready to go into this new phase of the competition, against opponents who had won games. Today it was 3rd vs 4th, both teams sitting on 9pts after Round 4. Stevie G was allowed back in charge of the toss and won it as usual. Our attacking runs towards the clubhouse end began immediately with Mick and Brad causing the most trouble for Toukley's keeper with their on-target shots. At the other end, the back line led by Meady was doing their utmost to prevent Aaron from needing to touch the ball, at least with his feet.

(^) WYOMING's stellar backline thwarts an attack

(v) AARON intercepts a Toukley long ball.

(^) Some nice movement leads to a shot by BRAD.

(^) NIGE cuts down an attacking run.

250!!

Having scored two goals in their previous game at home, Andy K looked ready to secure another after Flanno and Mick combined to send him through. His shot failed to beat the charging keeper who blocked it away. Mick was there to pounce on it and fired off another shot. The scrambling keeper managed to block it again but failed to hold onto it. Brad took care of the rest. That goal marked the team's 250th since its inception in 2011.

END TO END

Wyoming continued surging forward. Andrew Newnham and Mick McGarvey had great chances but it was a perfect counter attack that put Wyoming in good stead leading into half time. Starting from the back, Aaron threw it to the left flank. Brad and Mark Fitzpatrick combined and sent Luca on his way. Luca beat three opponents as he charged his way into the 18-yard box. Cutting inside, he stretched out and sent the ball to an unmarked Andy. Andy lunged towards it and got a shot away. It curled above the keeper who outstretched, looked certain to get a fingertip to it and send it over the bar. But then Mick's words "It's in, it's in" echoed across the goalmouth. The ball dipped under the crossbar and popped into the net.

SCURI SKILLS

So loud was Luca's cheer as that second goal was scored, that Lorraine Little - at the canteen - was certain Luca had scored it himself. He was proud of that assist but it would've paled in comparison if his chance with Mick had of been netted a few minutes later. As he neared the 18-yard box, the ball was rolling towards his less favored left foot. Rather than take such a risk, he tucked his right leg behind his left and popped the ball through a perfect gap for Mick to run through. From the right edge, Mick's shot beat the keeper but sailed just wide of the left post. If that had found the net, poor Lorraine would've suffered temporary deafness.

(^) LUCA puts on the shine as he sends MICK away ... the shot narrowly misses, sailing across the vacant goalmouth.

SHERIFF QUILL

It wasn't all one-way traffic. Sure Meady thwarted one attacking run with a hack, erm, tackle from behind and Marky slipped over, erm got clipped in another but they are called the Gunners after all so Toukley did fire off a few shots. Thankfully Aaron was there stop any such threats and made one particularly stellar save just before half time.

FALLEN TROOPS

The second half was marred by a couple of slight injuries. Stevie G took a knock in the first half and retired midway through the second for a beer. He joined Flanno who was already a couple of beers in after being sent off in the first half. Not by the referee but apparently bullied (aka Bulmer'd) to return to the bench by erm, Billy. A hurt feelings report has been filed. Luca stumbled over the sideline, perhaps trying to pull off a scorpion kick that's all the rage right now. He clutched at his hip and poor Julia made the long walk to aid him. He returned to the field a short while later. Was it wounded pride? Time wasting? Or a claim to get some points in the Dirty Shirts tally? You be the judge! The biggest concern for the day was Mick McGarvey who tore his hamstring. Thankfully he returned from Julia's Torture Chamber after full time and may only miss a week. Here's hoping for a quick recovery.

THE ANDREW COMBO

Ryan and Mark Fitzpatrick combined well up the left flank and each put through a threatening cross whilst Andrew Newnham did the same from the right. Andy and Mick kept testing the keeper with long range shots and even Mark Wallace got a shot in hoping to emulate his glory at Kanwal. Poor Stew had a day to forget but continued to give his all. Dale went all in for one attacking run and copped a keeper's knee in the buttocks for his trouble. Julia was too busy with Mick's hamstrings to give him any attention though. There wasn't too much to fear at the back - even when Aaron almost handed an attacker a free shot - but a third goal would be some delicious tasting icing on the cake. And it came from a nice Andrew-to-Andrew combo. Luca sent Andy K into space up the left flank. He darted up field and crossed it to Andrew Newnham on the opposite flank. Perfectly composed and on a pretty tight angle, Newnham slotted it away.

DIRTY SHIRTS

Ryan Lawes picked up the three points for some solid dirt slaying today; Mark Wallace took the 2, undoubtedly for his tripping / clipping antics; and Luca ... well, we shall give him the benefit of the doubt that the grime he picked up was away from the sideline.
