GAME #10

Vs

ALAN DAVIDSON OVAL 1, WYOMING

RINSE AND REPEAT

The deluge of rain came at the perfect time for CCF as most of the competition had the long weekend off. With a fortnight's break it was a good chance for the old men of the 35EN squad to nurse any niggling injuries and rest up. Of course, Luca doesn't think of these things and goes getting himself injured whilst training with the 16Bs in a tackle against his own son. Luca was expected to play in the second half of today's encounter but by Thursday night he was out with a swankle (swollen ankle). Andy of course wasn't sure whether to believe him or not having been fooled one too many times by messages from this hypochondriac. The remaining 17 however avoided such stupidity and had given Andy a bit of a selection headache as all were available to play. It came to sending out a text asking for a volunteer to step down. Goalie Aaron kindly offered. Andy's response was ... "No f@#king Way! Offer declined". A few others also offered either themselves or other player(s) in the team but ultimately it was going to be flu-ridden Ryan to miss out ... until poor old Gregg sent a message on Friday evening cursing the heavens. Not only would he have been called into work but now Meady would become the outright leader for most capped games. Stay off the bike for now Nige! Thanks by the way to those who volunteered, well those who volunteered themselves I mean. Flanno would be a late starter due to coaching commitments so it was expected we'd have 15 to start... except Bill, upon reading the 17 players text, assumed he'd be culled. His cup-and-string-phone isn't obviously equipped to receive MMS to have known otherwise so he turned up in his civilian clothes without his gear. Would've taken him till Sunday to strap himself up, so he was a late omission. Oh well, at least he could compete in the Bay Run the next day.

(^) DALE steps up for the toss ... and shows the Referee his recent manicure.

THE BIG PAYBACK

Dale stepped up to be today's tosser. I've no idea if he won it or not but we stayed as we were and we kicked off. The Woongarra Wildcats had beaten us 4-2 in Round 1. That and a big win the following weekend had them on top of the competition but within the next seven games they only managed two more victories to now be loitering outside the Top 4. If they thought they were going to make it two from two against us, well quite simply, they were suffering from delusions of grandeur. We were on home turf, the Field One Fortress! We had subs this time! We weren't playing in 30 degree heat this time! Steve and Wallace, those guys who gifted them goals last time, well they were on the bench! And their gifted center midfielder from last time, well he wasn't here! Yes, this time it was the Tigers turn to win the battle of the cats!

(^) FITZY leads an early attacking charge..

FIRST BLOOD

It took just a little bit of perseverance to find a crack in their defense. A ball through from Mark Fitzpatrick appeared to contained by a Woongarra defender until Andy pounced, dispossessing him and charging forward. He made no mistake beating the keeper and netting the first goal of the afternoon.

(^) McGARVEY narrowly misses ... and sets up ANDREW for a shot (v)

(^) ANDY K makes another charge but finds CHRIS in an offside position (v) ANDY K takes a shot at the clubhouse.

(^) STEW sends through a quality cross

(v) STEW takes a not-so-quality shot bound for the side netting.

LEFT FLANK ATTACKS

Fitzzy continued to threaten down the left flank whilst Mick McGarvey was busy in the middle looking for holes. He put Andy through a couple of times. One of whose shots went high, another was a cross to Chris in an offside position. Stew too was busy when he entered the fray, particularly with some solid crosses, one almost found Mark Wallace coming on for a rare cameo as striker.

(^) STEW gives MARKY WALLACE some long jump practice.

(^) MICK's head takes a battering after a couple of misses (v)

THE MCGARVEY MENACE

Mick had several chances including a gift of a ball from a Woongarra defender but was either sending them over the crossbar or straight to the keeper. He did send a quality ball through for Andrew Newnham (his first game back since his UK trip) but a defender was able to intercept. In a stint of madness, the defender sent it back towards his goalmouth. It bounced off the post, past the keeper's hands and across the goal. Andrew pounced on it and slotted it over the line.

BENEATH THE BAR

Fitzzy would start Wyoming's third with a cross from the left. In their attempts to clear it, Woongarra handballed it just outside the 18-yard box. Mick's ensuing free kick popped over the wall, over the keeper and under the crossbar.

(^) AARON dives desperately to keep a clean sheet

PARKING THE BUS

The Tigers began the second half conservatively, focused more on defence than pushing forward. Aaron therefore was busier and forced to make a couple of saves. Brad also came to the rescue when clearing one shot away from the goal line. There were chances up front but the shots were mostly off target with Fitzy, Chris, Mick and notably Ryan all sending the ball into the trees.

(^) FITZY takes a long shot

(v) MICK forces a corner

(^) CHRIS's shot is creek bound.

(^) BRAD's goal line heroics.

(v) CHRIS feeds MICK through a gap.

(^) STEVIE G creates a chance from the right flank.

FLANKING FIFTEEN

It would take an injection of some Stevie G magic on the right flank for the Tigers to strike again. An earlier cross hadn't quite been rewarded but his next one sailed across the goalmouth. A failed clearance from the Wildcats saw Stew stretch out and slot it into the net.

(^) RYAN takes a shot mistaking the fence for the goal.

(^) STEVIE G gets fouled.

THE KARMA OF HECKLING

With the game well and truly in Wyoming's favour, frustration leaked from a few of the Woongarrah pack leading to fouls - notably a late tackle on Stevie G that gave the offender a yellow card - and a good deal of whinging to the point that the referee bemoaned, "I can't wait for this game to be over". A moment of heckling from one of their players certainly caused the reverse effect. After receiving a long ball from Nige, Andy found Mick through a gap up front. As Mick charged forward, his closest opponent tried to put him off with a tirade of jeers. Mick retorted in the best way - with his feet. He out-manoeuvred the defender on the left edge of the 18 yard box and took a shot. It curled perfectly into the top right pocket of the net. "That's what you get!" quipped Mick. If only someone was in his ear for those shots in the first half.

WEEK 11 PREVIEW

Wyong's 4th spot may be in jeopardy as they face the undefeated Gosford. If they lose and Toukley defeat Kanwal, the Gunners will leapfrog the Emus. Wyoming and Killarney 1 will need to take advantage against their lowly placed rivals as the race to the finals begins. Killarney 2 vs Woongarra will be a vital match for both.
